

[54] FINE MEDIA MILLING PROCESS
[75] Inventors: Horton Harold Morris, Macon, Ga.;
J. Raymond McMahan, Belmont;
William I. Rogers, Carlisle, both of Mass.

3,018,059 1/1962 Lodige et al.....241/172 X
3,131,875 5/1964 Szeguari.....241/172 X
3,199,792 8/1965 Norris, Jr.....241/172 X
3,291,400 12/1966 Jensen.....241/172

[73] Assignee: Freeport Sulphur Company, New York, N.Y.

Primary Examiner—Granville Y. Custer, Jr.
Attorney—Philip Churchill

[22] Filed: Aug. 11, 1970

[21] Appl. No.: 63,001

[52] U.S. Cl.241/27, 241/30, 241/172,
241/184

[51] Int. Cl.B02c 17/16

[58] Field of Search.....241/172, 184, 173, 27, 30

[57] ABSTRACT

The invention relates to a process for the fine media milling of microorganisms or crystalline organic materials. In our process, a liquid dispersion of a microorganism or crystalline organic material is agitated in the presence of grinding media.

7 Claims, No Drawings

[56] References Cited

UNITED STATES PATENTS

3,190,568 6/1965 Freedman et al.....241/184 X